notes
data collected april 6 2024 from wikipedia chose to 'normalize' team cities to the closest 'major city' to avoid lots of single city teams. the official city that the team plays out of are kept in the league sheet, ie: NY Giants play in East Rutherford, New Jersey but due to their Name + vast significance of NYC, this was normalized to NYC a couple of times I did not normalize to the nearest major city (ie: NJ Devils, Greenbay Packers) is because their name does not encompass the nearest major city non city names were also normalized to the nearest major city (ie: Texas Rangers -> Dallas) future ideas
include market sizes
MLS?
NCAA
why do leagues seem to top out at ~30 teams?
